

TRANSIENT MOTORISTS EXEMPTED FROM TAXES

Senate Passes Amendment Benefiting Marylanders—D. C. Gains Naught.

With Senators Lee and Smith, of Maryland, vigorously defending the right of their State to put an annual license tax on District of Columbia automobiles, the Senate yesterday afternoon over the passage of an amendment to the District bill by Senator Smoot, designed to bring about reciprocity in this matter between the two territories.

While the amendment was passed by a vote of 23 to 11, it does not operate to restrict the right of Maryland in causing automobiles crossing the District line into her jurisdiction to pay the annual license fee of 50 cents per horse power, or $30 a year on the average six-cylinder car.

The amendment provides that non-residents of the District of Columbia, coming from States which have reciprocal relations with the District of Columbia in regard to automobile laws, shall not be obliged to pay the annual license fee of $30 to $5 for authority to operate a car within the District. While members of both the House and Senate will be expected by the amendment, residents of Maryland desiring to operate their machines within the District must pay a fee for the privilege.

Senator Lodge defended the amendment and declared that the Maryland license law was a public annoyance and that in enacting this license, Maryland was injuring the public.

Good Maryland Whisky.

Senator Lee declared that Washington motorists constantly using the Maryland roads should pay some portion of their upkeep.

Senator Smith stated that the relations between Maryland and the District of Columbia with respect to automobile traffic was different than those between Maryland and her sister States. Because of the small area of the District, it is not possible for Washington motorists to enjoy motoring to any great extent without patronizing Maryland highways, he declared. He justified the right to charge automobile license for this privilege.

Senator McCumber stated that in addition to the tax the motorists were obliged to pay tolls on a number of Maryland roads.

Senator Martine expressed amazement that the discussion was largely concerning traffic to Maryland. "It seems to me they all go to Maryland because it's wet," he said. "Beautiful women, splendid roads and good whisky may account for its popularity," he said.

WAR REFERENDUM PROPOSED IN BILL

One of William Jennings Bryan's pet ideas is incorporated in a resolution introduced in the House by Representative Callaway, of Texas, designed to have the voting electorate of the country decide when the country will declare war. The resolution would strip Congress of the power now vested through the Constitution to declare war and would place it with a popular referendum.

Leading pacifists and followers of the State of Nebraska have long advocated such legislation as a measure designed to encourage peace.

The International Brotherhood Welfare Association claims to have fostered the Callaway resolution. A corps of members of the peace committee of the organization have arrived in Washington and are making a canvass among Representatives. The association announced last night that many Representatives had pledged their support of the measure.

On the same night, it was stated, allied aviators attacked German establishments at Guiscard, Busby and Noyon.

D. C. "SUFFS" TO VOTE ON NON-AID POLICY

Expected to Uphold National Body in "No Ballot-No Help" Stand.

A forecast of the nation-wide action which the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage will take in the present international situation will be secured here today when the District branch of the Union meets to discuss the situation at national headquarters.

Although neither Mrs. W. T. Burch, chairman of the District branch, nor any of the other District officials would discuss the probable action of the District suffragists, it is being confidently predicted by the rank and file that the District branch will support the present policy of the national body. This policy, as outlined by Miss Alice Paul, national chairman of the Congressional Union, is to press ahead with the campaign for the Federal amendment harder than ever because of the increased necessity for women having a voice in the government that decides whether or not there shall be war.

The meeting today, at which plans of the District suffragists will be formulated, will be presided over by Mrs. Burch and will be addressed by Mrs. Gilson Gardner, who will discuss the present international crisis from the suffragist standpoint. At the conclusion of her speech the subject will be thoroughly discussed from the floor and a vote will be taken on the instructions to be issued to the District delegates to the national convention.

SUNDAY'S TABERNACLE NEAR UNION STATION

Billy's Sunday's tabernacle is to be on the old B. and O. Railroad Station site at New Jersey avenue and C street north-west.

The tabernacle, which is to accommodate 12,000 persons, will cover all the vacant property from New Jersey avenue to North Capitol street, and from C to D street, the title being held by the railroad company.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad officials have willingly offered the site and are co-operating with the Sunday committee here. It is expected that the evangelistic services will draw an immense number of out-of-town persons, and this site will be near Union Station.

Billy Sunday will open his meetings here about January 6, 1918.

BRICKS AND BOUQUETS FOR ASYLUM HOSPITAL

Trade Board Members Denounce It and Declare It Ideal.

The Washington Asylum Hospital is a perfectly ideal place or the worst hospital in the world. The committee on charities and corrections of the Board of Trade held a meeting yesterday afternoon to discuss the matter of a new municipal hospital and site, and the members were about equally divided in their opinions of conditions at the present hospital.

John Joy Edson said that the present hospital is one of the most horrible in the world.

"Why, they even have beds in the damp basement sometimes," said Mr. Edson. "I have seen the beds of patients jammed so close together that the nurses could not step between them and had to reach the patient's head by leaning over the foot of the bed."

"There is an old naval captain there now in that horrible place. And it is the best place in Washington we have for him. Just because men and women are poor, they should not be put into such a hole as that place."

Dr. James Dudley Morgan was one of the principal defenders of the hospital.

Dr. Morgan's Defense

"There are some things the hospital needs—a maternity ward, an administration building, a larger kitchen—but many things about the hospital are almost ideal. It is one of the neatest in the city. It is kept quite warm. There is an abundance of good food. The hospital has the best pathological laboratory in the city, the doctors say, and a fine refrigerator. Of course, the buildings are old, but they are well kept."

"I don't see," he said, "how a fine man like Dr. Morgan could make apologies for such a miserable place as the Municipal Hospital. It is the best of the greatest aggregation of misery in the world."

The discussion veered around to the question of a site for the new hospital. The Senate yesterday afternoon having appropriated $50,000.

John Joy Edson favored the site at Fourteenth and Upshur, and said that the new hospital would not be a detriment to the community there.

Quarrel Over Site.

S. T. Cameron said just as lovely a hospital could be built on Reservation 13 as in his home neighborhood at Fourteenth and Upshur, and that the people here would not want the hospital there. He said the property owners of that neighborhood would fight against the hospital being located there.

Samuel W. Curriden said that if it hadn't been for stubborn people like Mr. Cameron who didn't want the hospital anywhere but on Reservation 12 the District would have had the hospital long ago.

The committee passed a resolution finally using Congress to appropriate the appropriation bill, and did not mention the question of site in the resolution.

The House conference—Page, of North Carolina; Andrews, of Illinois, and Davis, of Minnesota—will probably decide the question of a site.

Don't Get "Soaked," Look at Label on Can

Are you eating "soaked" peas and beans? If you don't know, you had better look harder at the label on the can. For the Department of Agriculture announces that many canners are putting on the market products made by soaking dried peas and beans and then canning them. The "soaking" process gives the peas and beans much the same appearance as the fresh article.

The Pure Food and Drugs Act requires that the label indicate plainly that the contents of cans are made from the soaked, dried product. Better look at the label if you don't want to get "soaked."
